Suitability of Investment

Before investing in the Sub-Fund, you should inform yourself how you could be affected by: (a) any possible tax consequences; (b) any legal and regulatory requirements; (c) any applicable foreign exchange restrictions or exchange control requirements; (d) any governmental or other consents or formalities that you might require or otherwise encounter under the laws of your country of citizenship, residence or domicile and which might affect your acquisition, holding or disposal of Investor Shares or receipt by you of income from such Investor Shares.

Risk Factors

Exchange Traded Notes

Exchange Traded Notes (“ETNs”) are senior, unsecured debt obligations of the Issuer. As debt obligations, all ETNs are subject to default risk of the issuer. Any decline in the issuer’s credit ratings may adversely affect the market value of an ETN. The issuer’s credit rating is intended to provide an indication of the likelihood the issuer will have the capacity to fulfill its outstanding debt obligations at maturity or upon early redemption and does not relate to the expected performance of the underlying asset or the ETN. ETNs are structured to reflect the appreciation or depreciation of the underlying asset in their trading price, redemption price, and value at maturity. Depending on the performance of the underlying asset over the term of the ETN and the value of the underlying asset on the applicable valuation date(s), investors could lose a substantial portion or even all of their investment. ETNs can be linked to the performance of many different underlyings with varying degrees of market risk. In particular, commodities, futures and currencies may present significant risks. There is no guarantee that an active and liquid trading market will develop for all ETNs.

Refer also to the Section of the Prospectus entitled “Risk Factors”. The Risk Factors outlined in the Prospectus are sufficiently exhaustive to also cater for any specific risks which may apply for an investment in the Sub-Fund.

An investment in the Investor Shares by you is best undertaken after you are satisfied, possibly after obtaining advice from a qualified professional advisor, that you have properly assessed the merits and risks associated with the investment and that your financial resources are adequate to enable you to bear any potential losses that may arise therefrom. The contents of this Offering Supplement and of the Prospectus are not intended to contain, and should not be regarded as containing, advice relating to taxation, legal advice, investment advice or any other matter.

Restrictions on Distribution outside Malta

The offer of Investor Shares pursuant to this Offering Supplement is deemed to be an offer of securities to the public in terms of the Companies Act, however, the distribution of this Offering Supplement, the Prospectus, the KIID and the offering of Investor Shares may be restricted in other jurisdictions. This Offering Supplement does not constitute, and may not be used for the purposes of, an offer or solicitation to anyone in any jurisdiction in which such offer or solicitation is not authorised, or to any person to whom it is unlawful to make such offer or solicitation. Persons to whose attention this Offering Supplement may come are required to inform themselves about, and to observe, such restrictions.

Application to List Shares on a Stock Exchange

The Company may list the shares of the Sub-Fund on a stock exchange subject to the Company obtaining advance permission of the MFSA before taking any preparatory steps to seeking a listing.
